Case No.: C-07-02853 SBA

STIPULATION AND PROTECTIVE
ORDER

The Hon. Sandra Brown Armstrong

1 The parties to this action recognize that disclosure and discovery activity in this action are 2 likely to involve production of confidential, proprietary or private information. The parties seek to 3 ensure that such information is protected from public disclosure and from use for any purpose other 4 than prosecuting this litigation. Accordingly, the parties hereby stipulate to and petition the Court 5 to enter the following Stipulated Protective Order (the "Order"), the provisions of which shall 6 govern claims of confidentiality in this action. The parties acknowledge that this Order does not 7 confer blanket protections on all disclosures or responses to discovery and that the protection it 8 affords extends only to the limited information or items that are entitled under the applicable legal 9 principles to treatment as confidential. The parties further acknowledge, as set forth in Paragraph 10 15, below, that this Order creates no entitlement to file confidential information under seal; Civil 11 Local Rule 79-5 sets forth the procedures that must be followed and reflects the standards that will 12 be applied when a party seeks permission from the court to file material under seal.

13 Designating Confidential Litigation Materials

14 1. Any information or materials produced or obtained in this litigation, including, 15 without limitation: (a) documents, exhibits, answers to interrogatories, responses to requests for 16 admissions, deposition testimony and transcriptions (including exhibits) and all written, recorded, 17 graphic or electronically-stored matters (and all identical and non-identical copies thereof); (b) any 18 copies, notes, abstracts or summaries of such information and the information itself; and (c) any 19 pleading, affidavit, declaration, brief, motion, transcript or other writing containing such 20 information (collectively "Litigation Materials") may be designated as "Confidential" under this 21 Order. Litigation Materials that contain or comprise non-public information may be designated as 22 Confidential in the manner described below.

23 2. Litigation Materials may be designated "Confidential" under this Order where the 24 producing party reasonably believes them to be, reflect or reveal:

- 25 a) a party's financial or other business or trade secret information of a proprietary, 26 confidential or commercially sensitive nature; 27 b) information invasive of an individual's legitimate privacy interest, including 28 but not limited to confidential medical information;

- 1 c) documents, discovery responses, deposition transcripts and other information 2 produced in the litigation entitled Snow v. LensCrafters, Inc., et al., San 3 Francisco Superior Court No. CGC-02-405544, that any party to that action has 4 designated as "Confidential" in accordance with the provisions of the 5 Stipulation and Protective Order Regarding Confidentiality entered in the case 6 on November 26, 2002 (the "Snow Litigation Materials"); and 7 d) documents, discovery responses, deposition transcripts and other information 8 produced in the litigation entitled LensCrafters, Inc. et al. v. Liberty Mutual 9 Fire Ins. Co., et al., United States District Court for the Northern District of 10 California, Case No. C-04-01001 SBA, that any party to that action has 11 designated as "Confidential" in accordance with the provisions of the 12 Stipulation and Protective Order regarding Confidentiality entered in the case 13 on December 8, 2004 (the "Prior California Litigation Materials").

14 3. All Litigation Materials designated as Confidential, and the contents thereof, shall 15 only be used or disclosed as provided for in this Order, and shall not be made public by any 16 receiving person or be used for any purpose, except as permitted by this Order.

17 4. Any party or nonparty may designate Litigation Materials, or portions thereof that 18 are considered confidential, by marking them "Confidential" on at least the first page of the 19 document or by requesting the court reporter to so designate the transcript, or portion of the 20 transcript, at the time of the deposition or hearing. A party will not have to mark as "Confidential"
21 Snow Litigation Materials or Prior California Litigation Materials already marked "Confidential."

22 5. In order to provide the parties adequate opportunity to designate Litigation Materials 23 as Confidential, all Litigation Materials produced in this case shall be deemed Confidential whether 24 or not stamped with that legend, for a period of fourteen (14) days following production. For 25 depositions, the initial production date is the date that the reporter's transcript of that deposition is 26 received.

27 6. The failure to designate Litigation Materials as Confidential within that fourteen (14)
28 day period shall not waive a party's or nonparty's right to later so designate such Litigation

1 Materials. If Litigation Materials claimed to be Confidential are inadvertently produced without 2 that designation, such Litigation Materials and all copies thereof shall be returned to the designating 3 person for such designation within two days of any written notice requesting their return or may, 4 alternatively, be promptly marked Confidential by the receiving party upon written notice. The 5 receiving party may challenge the designation of the documents as provided in this Order, but the 6 inadvertent production of Litigation Materials (including, without limitation, testimony) claimed to 7 be Confidential without that designation shall not constitute a waiver of confidentiality.

8 7. Any party designating a deposition or portion of a deposition Confidential may 9 exclude from the room any person not authorized to receive Litigation Materials containing such 10 Confidential information under the terms of this Order.

11 8. Before use or disclosure of any Litigation Material designated Confidential in a 12 hearing or other courtroom proceeding, the party or nonparty who seeks to use or disclose the 13 material shall provide reasonable notice to the designating party. In addition to having the 14 transcript designated Confidential (see Paragraph 4, infra), the designating party may request that 15 the Court, at the time the information is proffered or adduced, clear the courtroom of any person not 16 authorized to view or hear the information, or, in the alternative, may ask the Court to receive the 17 information in camera. The parties shall meet and confer regarding any alternative or additional 18 procedures that would allow for an efficient presentation of evidence without compromising any 19 Confidential information.

20 9. The party or nonparty designating any Litigation Material as Confidential shall, in 21 the first instance, determine in good faith whether it constitutes confidential information covered by 22 this Order. The parties shall use reasonable care to avoid designating as Confidential any 23 information not entitled to such designation or generally available to the public. The parties must 24 take care to designate for protection only those parts of material, documents, items, or oral or 25 written communications that qualify so that other portions of the material, documents, items, or 26 communications for which protection is not warranted are not swept unjustifiably within the ambit 27 of this Order. Mass, indiscriminate, or routinized designations are prohibited. Designations that 28 are shown to be clearly unjustified, or that have been made for an improper purpose (e.g., to unnecessarily encumber or retard the case development process, or to impose unnecessary expenses and burdens on other parties), expose the designating party to sanctions. If it comes to a party's or nonparty's attention that information or items that it designated for protection do not qualify for protection, that party or non-party must promptly notify all other parties that it is withdrawing the mistaken designation.

Challenging Designations of Confidential Litigation Material

10. Any receiving party may object in good faith to a Confidential designation. Such objection shall be in writing, sent to the designating party, and shall state the reasons for the objection and the purpose for which the objecting party intends to use the Litigation Materials in question. The parties involved shall attempt to negotiate an informal resolution of the dispute. If attempts at an informal resolution of any such dispute prove unsuccessful, the objecting party may file with the Court a motion to remove the Confidential designation of that Litigation Material.

11. Any Litigation Material, the designation of which is subject to such dispute, shall remain so designated and shall be treated in accordance with such designation pending further order of the Court. The party asserting the confidentiality of any such Litigation Material shall bear the burden of establishing that the Litigation Material is entitled to the designation. Failure to challenge the designation shall not be construed as an admission that the Litigation Material was properly designated Confidential.

Disclosure, Use and Handling of Confidential Litigation Materials

12. Litigation Materials designated or treated as Confidential, copies or extracts therefrom and the information contained therein, may be disclosed, given, shown, made available, or communicated only for purposes of the prosecution or defense of this litigation and only to the following:

- (a) the Court;
- (b) court reporters who record depositions, testimony or proceedings in this action;
- (c) outside and in-house counsel for the parties who are actively involved in the prosecution or defense of this litigation, and their paralegal, secretarial and

1 clerical assistants;

2 (d) any corporate party's employees who are actively assisting counsel in the 3 defense of this action;

4 (e) third-party consultants and independent experts to whom it is necessary that 5 the Litigation Materials be shown for purposes of assisting counsel in this 6 litigation;

7 (f) witnesses at trial or in preparation for trial, or at a deposition in this litigation 8 or in preparation for such a deposition, and the counsel representing the 9 witness in connection with trial or such a deposition, but only to the extent 10 that, and no sooner than, the disclosing counsel determines in good faith that 11 such disclosure is necessary for purposes of asking questions at trial or the 12 deposition or preparing therefor;

13 (g) any individual expressly named in the particular Litigation Material as 14 having authored, received, or having knowledge of the information contained 15 in that Litigation Material;

16 (h) independent contractors engaged in one or more aspects of organizing, 17 copying, imaging, filing, coding, converting, storing or retrieving data, 18 documents or other information, or designing programs for handling data 19 connected with this litigation, including the performance of such duties in 20 relation to a computerized litigation support system;

21 (i) defendants' reinsurers, auditors or regulators; and

22 (j) any other person upon the written agreement of the party or nonparty that 23 designated the Litigation Material as Confidential (which agreement may be 24 recorded in a deposition or other transcript), or pursuant to court order after 25 motion.

26 13. Each person permitted to have access to any Litigation Material designated or 27 treated as Confidential pursuant to paragraph 12(e), (f), (h), or (j) shall, prior to being afforded 28 access to such Litigation Material, be shown this Order and sign an agreement in the form attached

1 hereto as "Exhibit A." A file shall be kept and maintained by the attorneys of record for each party
2 of all such written agreements signed by persons to whom the party has disclosed Litigation 3 Materials.

4 14. If any Litigation Material designated Confidential pursuant to this Order is, or is 5 used during the course of, a deposition or portion thereof, the portion of the deposition record
6 reflecting or comprising such Confidential information shall be sealed and stamped as Confidential
7 and access thereto shall be limited pursuant to the terms of this Order.

8 15. Without written permission from the designating party, or a court order secured after 9 appropriate notice to all interested parties, a party may not file in the public record in this action any 10 Confidential materials. A party that seeks to file under seal any Confidential material must comply 11 with Civil Local Rule 79-5. Any memorandum, supporting paper or other document that must be 12 lodged pursuant to Civil Local Rule 79-5(d), shall be lodged on the date that any such is due to be 13 filed and need not be lodged before any required date for filing.

14 16. Nothing in this Order shall impose any restrictions on the use or disclosure by a 15 party or nonparty of its own Litigation Materials as the party or nonparty deems appropriate.

16 17. Nothing in this Order shall prevent or otherwise restrict counsel from rendering 17 advice to their clients and, in the course thereof, relying generally on examination of Confidential 18 Litigation Materials; provided, that in rendering such advice and otherwise communicating with 19 such client, counsel shall not make any disclosure of the substance of Litigation Material so 20 designated except as otherwise allowed in this Order.

21 18. If, at any time, any Confidential Litigation Material in the possession, custody or 22 control of any person other than the person who originally produced such Litigation Material is 23 subpoenaed or requested by any court, administrative agency, legislative body or other person or 24 entity, the person to whom the subpoena or request is directed shall promptly provide written notice 25 to each person who originally produced such Litigation Material or designated it Confidential, and 26 the person to whom the subpoena or request is directed shall not take an adverse position to such 27 person(s) opposing the subpoena or request for such Litigation Material. If the producing party 28 makes a motion to quash or modify the subpoena, process or order, within ten (10) days of receipt

1 of notice pursuant to this paragraph, there shall be no disclosure pursuant to the subpoena, process
2 or order until the Court has ruled upon the motion, and then only in accordance with the ruling so 3 made. If no such motion is made despite a reasonable opportunity to do so, the person or party 4 receiving the subpoena or other process or order shall be entitled to comply with it.

5 19. In the event that Litigation Materials designated or treated as Confidential are 6 disclosed to someone not authorized to receive such information under this Order, counsel of record 7 for the party making that disclosure shall, promptly upon learning of such disclosure, give notice to 8 the designating party or that party's counsel and to the producing party (if different) or that party's 9 counsel, and shall describe the circumstances surrounding the unauthorized disclosure. Counsel 10 making the unauthorized disclosure shall also promptly notify the person to whom the disclosure 11 was made that it contains Confidential information subject to this Order and will make all 12 reasonable efforts to obtain the return of, and preclude dissemination or use of, the Confidential 13 information by the person to whom disclosure was inadvertently made.

14 Additional Provisions

15 20. Nothing in this Order, nor the production of any Litigation Materials by any party or 16 nonparty, shall be deemed a waiver of any privilege or work product protection, or of the right of 17 any party or nonparty to oppose production of any Litigation Material.

18 21. The fact that any information is disclosed, used or produced in discovery or trial 19 herein shall not be construed as consent to its admissibility in this litigation, or to its use, in any 20 action or proceeding before any court, agency or tribunal, and is not determinative of the question 21 of whether such information is confidential or proprietary.

22 22. Nothing in this Order abridges the right of any person to seek its modification by the 23 Court in the future.

24 23. By stipulating to the entry of this Protective Order no Party waives any right it 25 otherwise would have to object to disclosing or producing any information or item on any ground 26 not addressed in this Stipulated Protective Order. Similarly, no Party waives any right to object on 27 any ground to use in evidence of any of the material covered by this Protective Order.

28 24. Nothing in this Order shall prevent any party or nonparty from seeking additional

1 protection from the Court for any particular Litigation Material, including seeking an order that the 2 Litigation Material not be produced or disclosed.

3 Conclusion of Litigation

4 25. Within thirty (30) days of the termination of this litigation, the originals and all 5 copies, whether exact copies or compilations, digests or non-exact copies in any form, of 6 Confidential Litigation Materials shall, upon request, be returned to the person who produced such 7 Litigation Materials (with the resulting shipping expense to be paid by the producing person), or 8 may be disposed of in some manner that is mutually agreeable among the applicable persons.
9 Compliance with this paragraph shall include the return or disposal of any Confidential Litigation 10 Material provided to any third parties, including but not limited to expert witnesses. Nevertheless, 11 counsel of record may retain their file copies of all court filings, official transcripts and exhibits, 12 provided that counsel continues to treat all Litigation Materials in the manner approved in this 13 Order.

14 ///

26. The limitations on the use and disclosure of Information shall survive the termination of this litigation. The Court will retain jurisdiction to enforce the terms of this Order after termination of this litigation, and any party or nonparty that has produced Litigation Materials designated as Confidential shall have standing to enforce the Order.

IT IS SO STIPULATED.
